Collaboratively create diagrams online

what is it?

Cacoo is a free online drawing tool. People can create such things as mind maps, site maps, and network charts with Cacoo. Cacoo offers multiple users the ability to collaborate on diagrams together in real time. Cacoo also offers users the ability to comment on diagrams and embed them in other blogs or websites.

educational use?

Cacoo can be used by faculty and/or students to create graphical organizers and other types of diagrams or mind maps.

pros & cons?

Perhaps the best part of Cacoo is how easy it is to create diagrams and mind maps as well as the ability to collaboratively create diagrams that then can be embedded into webpages.

what's it cost?

It's free to use. But they also offer paid accounts with additional features.

alternatives?

Some alternatives are Mindmeister (<http://www.mindmeister.com>), Microsoft Visio (<http://office.microsoft.com/en-us/visio/>), Bubbl.us (<http://bubbl.us>), DropMind (<http://web.dropmind.com>), and Inspiration (<http://www.inspiration.com>).
